HSA International Conference 2022: Venue Information

Royal College of Physicians moved into the current building, located in Edinburgh's New Town in 1846. The venue has retained its historical character whilst providing state-of-the-art facilities. Including the new Conference Centre which opened in 2019. With a capacity of 300 people (Covid permitting), the new space provides excellent modern amenities, accessibility for delegates and an innovative audiovisual system allowing the event to be streamed live.

The college has a fascinating history, boasting a bountiful library of archives, journals and artwork. It frequently hosts events and exhibitions; more information can be found here.

How to get there:

By train

The New Town of Edinburgh is very conveniently located. The conference venue is just a 10 minute walk from Waverly Station where trains frequently arrive/depart for the UK's major cities such as London, Birmingham, Bristol and Glasgow.

By tram

Edinburgh's tram network is currently undergoing constriction works, but by June, the tram stops in St Andrew's square should be open again. This means a direct route from the airport will be just a five minute walk away from the conference venue. Trams run every seven minutes, details of routes and timetables can be found here.

By bus

Lothian buses run frequent services covering the city of Edinburgh and the surrounding area. Information regarding routes, prices and tickets can be found here.

By ca

There are public car parks located near the conference venue, however roadworks and the introduction of new Low Emission Zones in the city centre may make travelling by road more challenging.

By air

Edinburgh airport connects Scotland's capital city to domestic and international destinations with many direct flights to mainland Europe, United States of America and Canada.
